Prohibition Leaders Heartened by Results Of Two Years' Trial

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE, POLICE OFFICIALS AND FEDERAL DIRECTOR AGREE ON GOOD THAT HAS BEEN PRODUCED — JUDGES AND COURTS HAVE LEARNED PEOPLE ARE IN EARNEST

By C. H. HADOX.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.
COLUMBUS, May 27.—Today is the second anniversary of dry Ohio.
By reason of effectiveness of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution, 5,600 Ohio saloons passed into history on the strike of midnight immediately preceding May 27, 1919.
"The results of a dry Ohio are encouraging to the temperance forces in every way," said James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio anti-saloon league, today.
"The experience of the past two years, under the dry regime, has convinced the vast majority of the people that we are much better off without the saloon," declared Judge Don V. Parker, state prohibition enforcement commissioner.
"Two years have demonstrated that public opinion is behind prohibition and that organizations which make the public weal their hobby are not the dry cause," continued A. Sherman, federal prohibition director of Ohio.
Superintendent White pointed out that, in spite of the widespread unemployment and general industrial and commercial depression, $5,500,000.00 are on deposit in 20,000 savings banks throughout Ohio as compared with $3,000,000.00 prior to enactment of the prohibition amendment to the Ohio constitution.
The police officials in 33 former wet Ohio cities, he said, reported 995 arrests for drunkenness during April, this year, while in April 1919 the aggregate was 3,048.
While there is much lawlessness in some parts of the state, due to inactivity, inefficiency and connivance on the part of officials, yet where judges like Judge Killiet, Toledo, and Judge Ake, Canton, are assessing penalties commensurate with the offense, lawlessness is rapidly decreasing," said Superintendent White.
Whenever courts will assess fines and these lawbreakers cannot afford to pay, we are on the highway to success in law enforcement.
"In all reforms there are three stages—agitation, legislation and elimination. The last one is the most difficult and our temperance people are realizing it is going to take the same kind of organization and the same patriotism and sacrifice."

BOYS CONTENT THEY RESENTED INSULT TO GIRLS

ELYRIA—Joe Lewisky and Frank Busek, two Lorain boys who became involved in a fight with Ed. Frey, Val Dorsey, Maurice Tezeman and Leo Ferguson, early Thursday morning near the older mill curve on the Lorain road, were rather surprised this morning when they appeared at the sheriff's office at the court house and were placed under arrest. The sheriff had sent word that he wanted to talk to them.
Lewisky and Busek claimed that they were out riding with some girls and that the girls were insulted by the four boys, resulting in a fight. However, Ed. Frey and Val Dorsey claim that Lewisky and Busek were guilty of an unprovoked assault and secured warrants in Justice George's court, charging assault and battery and malicious destruction of property. It is claimed that Lewisky and Busek proceeded to wreck the automobile driven by the four boys and the court is to have an opportunity to pass on their case.

BOY MAY LOSE SIGHT OF EYE

ELYRIA—Philip Tucker, ten year old son of Gaylord O. Tucker, Oberlin road, was seriously burned yesterday afternoon while at play with some children on West avenue. The children had some flash light powder and Philip tried to light it with a match. When it did not explode he leaned over to light it again, and it suddenly exploded. He was terribly burned about the face and his right hand, and in his agony started to run, being so blinded that he could not see where he was going. His companions chased and caught him just before he would have fallen into the river. He was taken home, and while unable to see at present it is hoped that his eyesight will be saved.

NO ILL FEELING PROMOTED BY LEGION ACTION

ELYRIA—A news item in yesterday's paper relative to the Memorial Sunday services of the various patriotic organizations and the local Post of the American Legion leads to the desire to enlighten any person who might misinterpret the action of the Legion in selecting a separate church to offer the service, and not affiliate with the other organizations of this city.
In past years it has been the custom to receive a notice or invitation to participate in the exercises with the other organizations. This year, undoubtedly by an oversight or by loss in the mails no such invitation was received by any officer of the local Post, and it was not known at which place these memorial services would be held until after the release of the Thursday issue of the local paper.
On May 3d the mayor of the First Congregational church very graciously extended an invitation to this Post to observe the day at his church, and it was very gratefully accepted by the Legion. Through no fault of the Legion. The customary program was broken at that time, as it is the desire of the Post to promote good will, unity and harmony, instead of antagonism with the other patriotic organizations which the American Legion hold in the highest regard and esteem, as the veterans of the three wars stand for "America First, Last and All the Time," which is the aim of our organization.
Arthur L. Richwine, Commander Elyria Post No. 12, American Legion, George A. Robison, Jr., Adjutant.

Claims Fraud in Land Purchase

ELYRIA—Alleging that he has been defrauded out of a portion of a lot that he purchased from Michael Kasteman in Fairhome addition, Lorain, John Kaczer, has filed suit asking the court to reform his deed.
He states that he bought the lot on land contract, and in March after completing payment for it he received a deed. He was unable to read or write English and has discovered that instead of receiving a deed for a lot 50x100 feet he only received one for a lot 35x100 feet. He has erected a house on the lot and asks the court to compel the defendant to give him a deed as agreed upon, and an order restraining Kasteman from entering upon the property or interfering with him in his peaceful possession of it.

Union Men Demanding Publicity of Action Leading to Decision

COMMITTEE REPRESENTING CARMEN CRITICISED FOR TAKING TOO MUCH FOR GRANTED—DECREE MAY BE REJECTED BY MEN—EVERY ANGLE OF CASE COMES IN FOR DISCUSSION

ELYRIA—The 236 motormen and conductors of the Cleveland, Columbus and Southwestern Electric Co. have demanded a special meeting of the carmen's union to get a definite understanding on the wage dispute settlement.
Recently the union carmen voted to accept the decision of the board of arbitration which was acting on the wage dispute of the Cleveland, Painesville and Eastern Electric Co. Only half of the union carmen voted and those that voted were divided on the issue.
Now the board of arbitration has reported and has awarded the Green Line officials their full request of 20 per cent cut in wages, effective May 1. The old rate was 50, 55, and 60 cents an hour. The new arbitration rate is 42, 44 and 48 cents an hour.
The twenty per cent cut also affects linemen and employees at the power plant here which supplies power for both divisions and also for many villages and homes along the Southwestern System.
It was reported Friday that the Green Line officials during the conference had offered the union carmen a maximum of 50 cents an hour, two cents more than the board of arbitration allowed. Now the union carmen were yesterday given their checks for the first half of the month which was for the 50 cent rate offered by the company and will have to refund two cents an hour or about $3 to the company.
Members of the carmen's union said Friday that they want the transactions leading up to the decision of the board of arbitration made an open book. Other members of the union contend that the carmen should not exercise the right of the union to represent the carmen in negotiating the wage dispute.
The committee representing the carmen's union is criticized in the first place for leaving the matter up to the board of arbitration under the circumstances, claiming:

LORAIN BOYS HEADED TOWARDS LANCASTER

ELYRIA—Mike Zilesky, Joe Raschisky, John Kamatz, Carl Mielcarek and John Ronie, five Lorain boys in their early teens were in juvenile court this morning to show cause why they should not be sent to the Lancaster reform school. The case was delayed on account of Judge Wilcox trying another case.
These five boys have been engaged in numerous burglaries and other depredations. They recently caught a freight train from Lorain and were put off in Huntington township. There they proceeded to rob a house of some articles of jewelry. They then came to Elyria where they were arrested by the Elyria police while acting in a suspicious manner at the N. Y. C. depot, and the stolen Huntington property was found on them. Mrs. Harriet Cobb, juvenile probation officer, of Lorain, states that the boys have got beyond control and will probably be sent to Lancaster.

CLAIMS HACK PAY IN SUIT

ELYRIA—Claiming that the Superior Rubber Co. of Elyria, has violated its contract with him, Clifford Lawler filed suit in court this morning, asking for $1,345.17 salary.
He alleges that in June, 1919 he entered the employ of the defendant under a three year contract, and that he has been notified that his services will be dispensed with June 1. The company he alleges owes him $345 salary, and he seeks to collect the full amount that would be coming to him if the contract had been fulfilled.

AMERICAN AGE EXPLAINS AIM OF HIS FLIGHT

BY CAPTAIN EDDIE RICKEN-BACHER
(Written Exclusively for International News Service)
REDWOOD, City Cal., May 27.—In attempting to complete a transcontinental airplane trip in two days with but one stop, I expect to prove that safe and sane flying is not hazardous and that more and larger appropriation should be forthcoming from the federal government for aviation purposes. If I accomplish the trip as scheduled it will also prove the importance and feasibility of aviation in case of an emergency demonstrating that a fleet of battleplanes can be sent across the continent in two days while it would take weeks for battleships to go from one coast to the other.
In hopping off, I feel confident that I shall reach my objective—Washington—by air in two days with but one stop and that Omaha, Neb. However, I am not so confident that it shall "get the best of me," for "caution" shall be my watchword.
My route today lies over California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska.
I shall have to fly at a height of 12,000 feet to clear the Sierras. I expect to pass over Reno, Nevada, by six a. m. and Salt Lake by 10:30. If the schedule carries well I will pass over Cheyenne around 2:30 and North Platte by 5:30. I should reach Omaha between 7:30 and 8 p. m.
Taking off Friday my air path will lie over Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia.
The distance, I estimate, is 1,465 miles to Omaha and 1,200 miles from Omaha to Washington. The first few hours of the trip will be the hardest because of having to fly at a high altitude in getting over the Sierras and also because the motor during that time will not be properly warmed up. The pulse of a motor is like the pulse of a person, and until it is working properly I shall not try to push the plane forward at any unusual speed. The pulse of a motor in an airplane is not felt to the ear through the explosion of cylinders but through the control stick.

Mueller's Conviction Of Extreme Cruelty to Prisoners, is Certain

GERMAN PRISONERS EXPRESS HOPE THAT FRANCE AND ENGLAND WILL ALSO PUNISH COMMANDANTS WHO WERE BARBAROUS — COURT PRESIDENT EXPRESSES HORROR AT ARRANGING OF CRIMES

LEIPSIC, May 27.—Twenty witnesses from England, all former soldiers, were in court today to testify against Captain Emil Mueller, the second German officer to be arraigned in the war criminal trials.
Captain Mueller was in charge of a German prison camp, during the war. He is accused of beating British prisoners, with a riding whip and tying sick men to a stake for 3 days at a time. Most of the offenses were alleged to have been committed in 1918.
The conviction of Mueller seemed certain. As he was arraigned, the president of the supreme court glanced over the papers in the case.
"Before us, there is now being unrolled a terrible picture of war and I am deeply moved by it," said the judge. Then turning to Mueller he exclaimed:
"How could you, in the former examination, defend yourself against these extraordinary and serious charges. It is impossible for me to believe that you are a gentleman." Mueller's face turned pale.
The president of the court, as he read some of the charges lodged against Mueller by men who were former prisoners in his prison, expressed the hope that France and England will follow the example of Germany in punishing prison commandants who mistreated war prisoners. Newspapers claim that there are now on record, large numbers of former German prisoners who allege that they were mistreated.

DRY REGIME HAS DECREASED CRIME IN THIS CITY 40 PER CENT SAYS CHIEF STANKARD

Lack of Booze Has Largely Eliminated Murders, Wife-Beatings, Etc. — Hold High War Wages and Industrial Depression, Responsible for Present Crime Wave

ELYRIA—"The enforcement of prohibition has resulted in a 35 to 40 per cent reduction in crime," said Police Chief E. J. Stankard, today on the second anniversary of prohibition. "In April 1919 we had 85 arrests, 50 of which were for intoxication and the remainder mostly as the result of the saloons, while in April of this year we had 25 arrests, five of which were for intoxication and the remainder due to industrial conditions in the nation."
"Our records disclose that prohibition has materially decreased violent crimes such as murders, wife beating, disorderly conduct cases and others of which liquor is at the bottom," continued the Elyria police chief. "Prohibition has not had an effect on robberies, hold-ups and auto stealing which is due to industrial conditions, accountable by the fact that young people during the war were paid exorbitant wages and spent the earnings and now without work and no money to spend these youths are desperate to do anything to get spending money."
Persons as a rule do not burglarize the pull highway job, or steal auto while under the influence of liquor. The crime conditions in the past will not be improved until the people of the nation have some economical living and conditions between normal. That is accomplished by crime wave will continue and the utmost caution will be unable to stop it."

CITIZENS GET IN LINE FOR COMMENCE DRIVE

of Commerce promises to be for Elyria.

Let every one take hold. Show the world that there are no shirkers in Elyria.

Did you know that in the list of draft dodgers issued by the government, not a single name has as yet been credited to Elyria?

Well that is a fact.

So remember that the terms, "slacker," "evader," "dodger," "ducker" or whatever other definition you attach to such people is not known in Elyria. That the people of Elyria are not in any of those classes.

That the city is 100 per cent in everything and will be above par when the count is made at the close of the membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce, next Friday night.

The day has no significance where Elyria and its interests are concerned, that is, from a superstitious standpoint. But it has a great significance when counted as the day on which the returns will be made in that drive.

Let everyone join the procession. Move onward, upward and to the success at which the Chamber is aiming.

While it may be that people know what the Chamber has thus far accomplished, it will not be remiss at this time to review some of the leading things which it has brought to a successful issue.

Few people realize the many things which a Chamber of Commerce accomplishes for the good of the entire citizenship of a city. A review of the accomplishments of numerous Ohio cities shows that Elyria may well be proud of her Chamber of Commerce.

In driving over the city one will note the new and novel street signs at every corner. One thousand made and erected by the Chamber. Here we have an example of the tangible work which this organization is continually doing. In order to secure an athletic coach for the high school who would be capable of producing championship teams it was necessary for the Chamber to step in and assist in a financial way.

Never before have the hundreds of baseball fans had such a service rendered them as this year, all through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. Every day special service is rendered many citizens of Elyria.

The most important part of this history of Elyria was that during the World War and the Chamber is compiling this period of history.

We mention these things to bring to the minds of our people the great value of a Chamber. Here are a few reasons why not only 1,000, but 2,000 citizens should join hands in building a bigger, busier and better city.

turn to satisfactory business conditions will be more or less impeded.

"It is well known that at present, unless and until wages are further decreased, the costs of many steel producers will not permit lower selling prices."

GARY ADMITS COMMODITIES ARE TOO HIGH

NEW YORK, May 27.—General business, throughout the United States, is improving but there must be further readjustment before the public begins to buy upon a normal basis, Judge E. M. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation told the American Iron and Steel Institute here today.

"I am not at all discouraged; there is nothing the matter with the country," declared Judge Gary. Judge Gary declared that some of the prices charged for commodities are unreasonable "if not extortionate." He said that strict enforcement of the law is a sign of normal conditions.

One of the most hopeful signs of the times, he added, was the apparent disposition of the national administration at Washington, to help legitimate business.

Judge Gary said that until wages are further decreased the costs of many steel producers will not permit lower selling prices. He is opposed to further wage cuts, however, until the cost of living comes down.

Judge Gary's speech in part follows:

to win the last stage of this fight as in the others.

"Our counties are organizing by precincts throughout the state and going to continue to organize day by day until every whiskey runner is behind the bars, or there is an unconditional surrender on the part of these organized anarchists throughout the state," concluded Superintendent White.

"Federal, state and local authorities are gradually clearing up the evidence of illicit importation of liquors into Ohio and the manufacture and sale, illegally of intoxicants within the state," declared state prohibition commissioner Parker.

"As soon as the municipal councils throughout the state pass their ordinances providing funds for hiring their own detectives as they should, under provisions of the Miller prohibition enforcement act, and as soon as sheriffs and county prosecutors obtain sufficient funds with which to take care of their part of the work, the liquor business will be reduced to a minimum," Commissioner Parker said.

"The policy of this office is to do everything in our power to carry out the will of the people under this law and to arrest all violators, wherever found, regardless of who they may be."

"We are covering the state as rapidly as possible. We have 15 men now working and will have 20 regulars and some specials as soon as the appropriation to take care of the expenses of this work becomes effective," Commissioner Parker explained.

"Two years of prohibition in Ohio have demonstrated that prohibition enforcement has been more than self sustaining and has turned a substantial balance into the federal and state treasuries," said Federal Prohibition Director Shearer.

"There has been a fifty per cent decrease in the number of complaints alleging non support and neglect. Keeley cures have been dismantled. Workhouses at Cincinnati, Xenia and elsewhere have been abandoned. Pay envelopes have been placed in the hands of wives and mothers, instead of the maw of the corner saloon."

"Two years have demonstrated that whiskey is not a medicine. Only one physician in eight will prescribe it. The population of our infirmaries is steadily decreasing. Merchants, storekeepers, grocers and other tradesmen testify that men who never paid bills before have, in the past two years, been scrupulously prompt in meeting their obligations."

"If prohibition is not prohibitory, why the 'yell' from the wets? Why the price of contraband liquor beyond the man of moderate means?"

"Judges and courts from the justice of the peace to the supreme court, have learned that the general public is in earnest in the enforcement of the prohibition statutes," concluded Director Shearer.

Another ROYAL BLUE STORE OPENS TOMORROW!

362 Broad Street

Tomorrow morning, May 28th, will mark the advent into The Elyria Business World of another Royal Blue Co-operative Grocery—another blow at excessive grocery costs and another proof to Royal Blue Co-operators of their steadily growing strength. Co-operators are to be congratulated on this, their tenth store, and may well take it as an indication of the power and strength to be obtained through the coming years. Co-operation succeeding as it has, is bound to move steadily forward and onward, despite criticism from those who have not yet come to full understanding of its principles, and promises to its faithful adherents returns far beyond their most sanguine hopes.

The Pathe News

Not since The Rochdale System in England achieved such tremendous policy for good, has a co-operative movement attained a recognition such as will be accorded Royal Blue Co-operation on tomorrow afternoon.

PATHE NEWS—An organization famed for its news weeklies and its freedom from the taint of paid publicity, will have a cameraman present. Take a portion of the scenes for a picture showing the growth of co-operation in America. These scenes, and those of the co-operators' meeting on June 3rd will be shown all over the country. There is a real recognition of real co-operation.

Co-Operators' Meeting

On Friday evening, June 3rd, will be held the first annual Co-operators' Meeting. The Cleveland Masonic Temple on that date will hold a gathering of from six to ten thousand co-operators, their families and friends.

An address of welcome will be made by Mayor Fitzgerald, of Cleveland, and after an enjoyable entertainment, an accounting of their stewardship will be made by the officers, and all questions answered.

A dance will be the final of the meeting.

Far-seeing manufacturers and agents have donated automobiles for the parade from Rocky River to the hall. All are invited. You'll have a good time, and will more thoroughly understand why co-operation is succeeding. Call 2358 for particulars.

June 3rd.

CO-OPERATION IS GOING FORWARD

Each day sees an onward step in the march of successful co-operation. Each day increases the number of its faithful adherents---folks who do not care and cannot afford to pay excessive prices for groceries---folks who realize that the way to increase their purchasing power is by co-operation---folks who know that greater buying power means greater income and an opportunity to more fully enjoy the fruits of their labor. Co-operation can serve you, and serve you in a better way than you can possibly realize without a thorough understanding of its principles. Learn them---and learn them NOW.

BLACK BEAUTY

David Smith, famed as a director of big films in which animals play an important part, has achieved another triumph in "Black Beauty." He has obtained some unusual results with a score of horses and made many remarkable scenes in which the animals appear alone.

COLONIAL

STORY THAT LIVED OVER FORTY YEARS MADE INTO FILM

More than nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand stories which enjoyed some degree of popularity more than forty years ago have been utterly forgotten. The thousandth, read and remembered by generation after generation, holds a warmer place in the heart of mankind than any newly published book can reach.

For that reason, books which have stood the test of time have been sought eagerly by motion picture concerns. In many cases stories written in past centuries have been modernized in some degree. Occasionally this seems excusable, but in some instances it is highly objectionable.

In visualizing "Black Beauty," Anna Sewell's world famous "Autobiography of a Horse," Vitagraph has adhered absolutely to the world as written, in subject matter, period and all else. The costumes worn by the human characters are those of the early seventies. There are no automobiles, no telephones. That is why John had to ride Black Beauty at killing speed for the doctor when Mrs. Gordon fell dangerously ill.

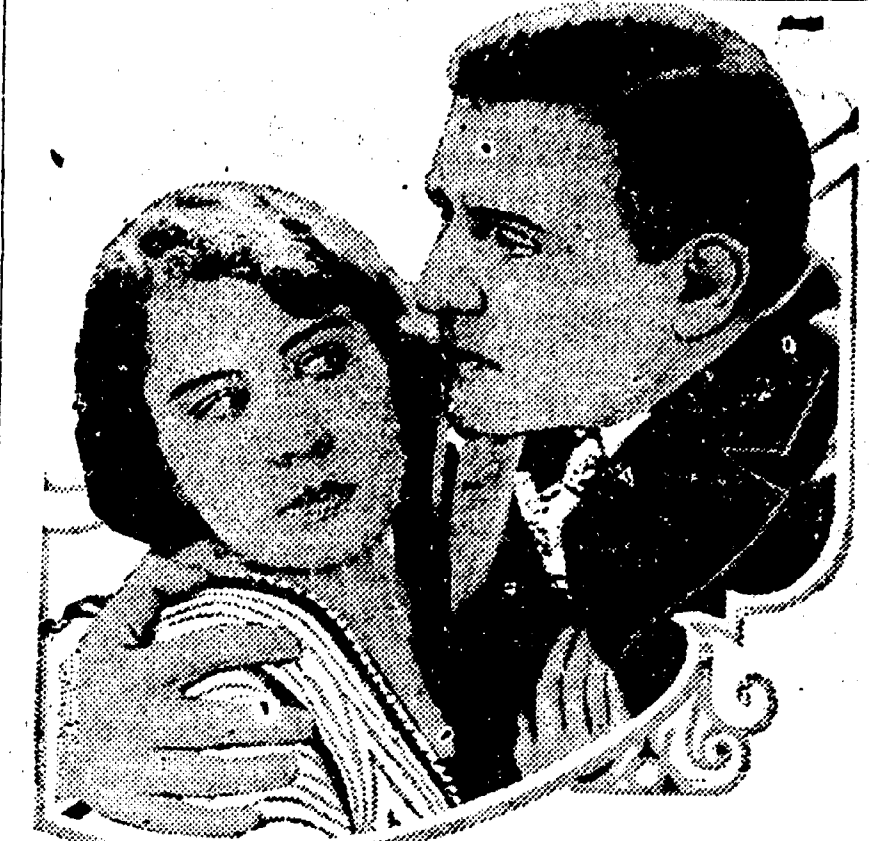

"Black Beauty," a Vitagraph all star special production with Jean Paige in the leading human role, shown at the Colonial theater today and tomorrow.

MARY PICKFORD AFFORDED UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITIES

In "Through the Back Door," Mary Pickford's forthcoming United Artists' release, this clever little artist will be afforded an opportunity for the display of talent equalled only in such previous productions as "Pollyanna" and "Daddy Long Legs." Arrangements were recently completed by Manager Bannon of the Colonial Theater to show this production beginning Sunday for one week.

It is the first picture in which Little Mary ever worked under the guidance of two directors, Alfred E. Green and Mary's brother, Jack.

DOROTHY DALTON and CHARLES RICHMAN in a scene from "HALF AN HOUR" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE STRAND

Jack sponsored this production, and the result of their combined efforts is said to prove further the truth of the old adage, "Two heads are better than one."

The outstanding feature of "Through the Back Door" is the delightful comedy sequences scattered throughout the picture. In a little girl role Miss Pickford has a chance to become involved in innumerable complications all provocative of mirth, yet touched with that pathos which stamps this greatest of all ingenues as mistress of her art.

In addition to the clean, wholesome fun with which this feature abounds, there is found running through it a counterplot of gripping drama in which filial devotion becomes a dominant factor. The struggle of a child to win recognition from her mother and the seemingly insurmountable obstacles that intervene furnish the motivating impulse for the story. Professional blackmailers, a designing "other woman," a "misunderstood" husband and an "abused" wife all play their respective parts in this unusual photoplay which opens in picturesque Belgium, then jumps to Long Island and closes in business-like New York.

AMERICAN

STREET LIFE SHARPENS WITS

While it cannot be urged that the street is the best possible environment for children, it cannot be denied that the children of the poor, early turned into the streets to play and look out for their own safety, develop a canny faculty of avoiding dangers and escaping with their lives where more shielded children would be lost.

The shielded child learns to depend on nurse or mother to watch out for him, but the street child must look out for himself. How particularly keen, and he falls in his task. Then the street gamin, bred in an orphan asylum and trained in the streets, steps in and gets the papers by clever wits and quick work.

Lewis Sargent, the boy who made "Huck Finn" live on the screen for millions of delighted picture lovers, plays the boy role in this greatest of all "kid" pictures ever filmed. He brings to the part all the delightful boy quality which he showed so well in the Mark Twain stories.

LORAIN SOCIETY

Women Voters' League at Initial Meet Elect, Hear Cleveland Speaker and Plan to Enter Actively in Politics

LORAIN—The Women Voters' League held their first regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. George Cudeback, temporary chairman, presided. Miss Myra E. Hills, recording secretary of the Cleveland league, spoke on the work being done by the league. One of the principal works of this organization is to get specific information about the candidates and see that this information is distributed among the women of the organization. The slogan of the league is "Every woman an intelligent voter." It is the aim and purpose to make every vote count. The policies of the league are to furnish reliable information about the candidates, to refresh the minds of the women on the process of government, to give information about the things that are before the house or senate, and to support legislation only when it improves conditions. After obtaining the information it is the duty of a woman to act. Some of the works done by this organization are along the following lines: Child welfare, conditions of women in industry, uniform laws for women, more efficient education, food supply and demand, efficient government, and social hygiene. It is the duty of a member of the league not only to vote for the best person but if she is elected to follow up his work and keep posted on the things he does. Mrs. Thomas McGeachie gave a short but interesting talk on the duties and objects of the Lorain league. In her address she said, "What we need is not less politics, but more attention to politics." The object of the league, according to Mrs. McGeachie is to have every woman become an intelligent voter. Every vote must count. This league will promote the education of citizenship. It is not a political party nor is it formed to attack candidates. It will deal with issues not personalities. Mrs. McGeachie said in closing, "We were given the right to vote, therefore it is our duty to vote, for rights and duties are inseparable." The officers elected at yesterday's meeting were as follows: Chairman, Mrs. George Cudeback; first vice-president, Cora Welday; second vice-president, Mrs. McGeachie; third vice-president, Mrs. Eva Hills; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Dan Bogus; fifth vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Gondor; recording secretary, Mrs. Franklin Williams; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. J. Boone; financial secretary, Mrs. Joseph Gould; treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Babcock; auditor, Mrs. L. A. Ault. The auditorium was patriotically decorated and the program closed with the singing of scores of patriotic songs, the music being furnished by the High school orchestra.

Last Meeting of the Fortnightly Club

ELYRIA—The last meeting of the Fortnightly for the year, which was held at the home of Miss Reedy West Third street yesterday afternoon, marked also the close of the fortieth year of the club. Because of this the hostesses made it the occasion of an informal social gathering, not only for the members, but for those who in years past had been affiliated with the club. The membership is widely scattered, the Pacific coast claiming several well known names as those of its residents. Others are located in the east. As a consequence those living in nearby towns and Elyria were the only ones who could respond to the invitation. There was a very pleasant gathering of old time friends who delighted in the opportunity for reminiscence and recalling the old club days.

Timely Hints to Home Gardeners

LOCATION AND SOIL. If no yard is available, a suitable vacant lot may be secured. In every case the garden should be near the house, so that it will be possible for the housewife to go into the garden and in a few minutes secure the desired vegetables. When the garden is situated at some distance from the house the effort necessary to care for it becomes a burden, the products are not all-

CAPE DRESS PRETTY

Three piece dress as done by Joseph. The skirt is of navy serge with henna stripe the waist of henna canton crepe and the cape of henna dorey trimmed with navy and henna striped serge.

ized to the fullest extent, and the garden is soon neglected.

At once shaded a large portion of the time should not be selected for a garden. The foliage crops, such as lettuce, parsley, and chard, will thrive fairly well when they get three or four hours of sunlight a day. Such crops as tomatoes, eggplants, and peppers should have an abundance of sunshine, at least five or six hours each day.

Most city gardeners are handicapped in that they must make the best of the space and soil available to them. While a sandy loam with a well-drained southern exposure will give better results than less favored locations, the gardener should not be deterred from making an effort even though his location is not the best.

Almost any kind of soil, unless it is composed of bricks, mortar, stone, rubbish, etc., can be used for gardening if it properly handled. Heavy clay soils may be improved greatly by adding large quantities of straw manure in the fall or by turning under green-manure crops. It is usually practicable to cover the clay soil with 2 or 3 inches of sifted coal ashes and then thoroughly incorporate the two.

Size Of The Garden

The city back yard is seldom large enough to produce sufficient vegetables for the average family. On limited areas of 800 square feet or less, only such crops as lettuce, snap beans, onions, radishes, a few tomato plants, spinach kale, chard, beets, and other crops requiring little space should be grown. Where more space is available, a quarter-acre may be profitably employed, and where sweet corn and sweet and Irish potatoes are to be grown a half acre is none too much. The keynote to success in the garden is to have the soil as fertile as possible, so as to produce sufficient vegetables with the least amount of labor.

MAKING A HOTBED

To make a hotbed, secure a quantity of fresh horse manure consisting of about two parts of the solid excrement to one part of litter. Pile in a heap under cover for a few days so that it will heat, and turn it over a few times to mix it thoroughly. When mixed, place the manure in a pile to the depth of 18 inches, keeping it well tramped while being placed. On top of this manure place the frame and pack manure tightly all around it. Place inside frame, 3 to 4 inches of rich soil and cover with a glass sash. Window sash can not be used for this purpose. The should stand for several days while, so that the gases from the manure may escape. When the temperature of the bed has fallen to between 80 and 90 degrees F. the seed may be planted.

Another very satisfactory method of constructing a hotbed is to dig a pit to a depth of 18 to 21 inches and in this pack the manure and place the frame over it. This method has the advantage of requiring less manure. In using either method it is a good plan in the fall to cover the ground where the hotbed is to be located with a layer of manure about a foot thick. This covering will keep the soil soft and warm, which will be a great aid when the time comes to construct the hotbed.

A hotbed may often be constructed adjoining a house and a pipe from the house heating system used to furnish heat for the bed.

PLAN YOUR OWN VACATION NOW!

Self-supporting Holidays Popular. 'Cherry ripe' is the latest thing in vacations! Formerly the girl who lacked money to take a holiday, stayed at home. Now she hikes out and earns it, fun and all. Under the supervision of the Y W C A. girls are going out to camp to pick cherries and other fruits for farmers. In Door County, Wisconsin, next July, a camp of one hundred and fifty girls will occupy new barracks built for their occupancy near the orchards. KING MANUEL IS BRIDGE FIEND AND PENNY GAMBLER, AT MONTE CARLO

BY NEWTON C. PARKER.
A. E. S. Staff Correspondent
NICE, May 27.—Ex-King Manuel, whose escapades in the late Gaby Deslys won him the title, "the world's gayest monarch," is leading as quiet and simple a life as a man can lead on the French Riviera. A plain St. Louis business man, out for a lark at Nice, Cannes and Monte Carlo, makes the former Portuguese ruler look as dead as an Egyptian mummy. Mrs. Manuel is with the ex-king almost everywhere he goes. In the morning they are frequently seen strolling along the Rue d'Antibes, in Cannes, "window-shopping" and occasionally making a few small purchases. Manuel, always accompanied by the former queen, spends his afternoons at bridge, at the races or playing tennis. He is a "bridge fiend" and on rainy days is at the bridge table all afternoon, at the Cercle Nautique. There he finds, among the best known players, the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Cyril, Countess Torby, Prince Radziwill, the duchess of Albany, the princess of Athlone, Princess Marie of Ligne, the Baron de Rothschild and the Prince and Princess Philip of Bourbon.

The former king plays a good game at tennis. In the last big tournament he succeeded in reaching the semi-finals before he was eliminated by a younger player. Excepting for his wife, Manuel is seldom seen alone in the company of any woman but Lady Coats, who is a well-known figure at Cannes and an intimate of the former queen of Portugal. He frequently escorts Lady Coats to tea and sometimes to the Casino at night, when his wife is a bit tired. Manuel is an almost nightly figure at the Casino. He has engaged, for the entire season, the first lodge, but seldom occupies it, preferring the baccarat room. There he gambles every night, but in sums so small that the Monte Carlo habitués would instantly pronounce him a "piker." But the ex-king, so the Casino attendants say, generally comes away slightly ahead of the game.

Since their arrival at Cannes the ex-king and queen have occupied a luxurious apartment in the resort's highest-priced hotel.

Evelyn Nesbit Gives Up Career to Open Restaurant

Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, of Pittsburgh, has given up her stage career and will in the future devote all her time to a coffee room and restaurant which she has established in New York City. "I'm going to sell the best coffee in the world," said Miss Nesbit, "and folk can come here to taste some chicken baked in a Southern way that will melt in their mouths."

"How about your music, sculpture and acting?" she was asked. "And how about little Russell Thaw?"

"I shall never give up my boy," she answered. "He is in school in Pittsburgh right now. I am through with acting, and I am through with sculpture. I want to make money now, and that alone fills my mind."

REDUCE THOSE DANGEROUS SWOLLEN VEINS

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful, germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and wens. Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.—Adv't.

SILVER GREY FOX FARM RUN ON LONE ARCTIC ISLE

(By International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., May 27.—A former "sourdough" miner and a shipwrecked sailor are proprietors of one of the most unique "farms" in the north country, raising silver grey foxes on the island of Ugak, six miles off Kodiak Island in the Pacific ocean, near the Alaskan coast.

E. T. Hafferty went to Alaska during the gold rush of '97, and after experiencing various shades of fortune decided that fox farming is a better method of making money than mining. Gus Olson, his partner, arrived at Ugak Island on a bit of drift wood after being shipwrecked in 1898, and has never left the north land.

The two bought the entire island consisting of about 50,000 acres seven years ago and "planted" three pairs of silver grey foxes. These have multiplied until now sixty pairs now roam their land, and within two years the two old timers expect to sell fifty pairs each spring.

Hafferty arrived in Portland a short time ago with sixteen pelts to be disposed of, and will return to Alaska in a few weeks. They expect to make their permanent home in Ugak.

Hafferty is United States commissioner at Kodiak, and Olson now does most of the work at the ranch.

"For ten months of the year he is the only human inhabitant of the island," said Hafferty. "But it is a life he loves."

Acts as Policeman.

"Our main trouble is with eagles," Hafferty continued. "They swoop down and carry off the fox pups when they are too young and small to protect themselves. Olson devotes his time in the spring and summer to killing these eagles. This spring we shipped 65 pairs of eagle claws to Juneau, for which we received fifty cents each in bounty. Olson spends the rest of his time patrolling the island against native hunters who attempt to land and trap the animals we are farming."

One might get the idea that these animals are domesticated, but they wander over the island at will, and must be trapped just as though they didn't live on a farm.

One Pair Worth $1,500.

"We hired two native trappers during the winter," Hafferty explained, paying them $50 a month and $5 a pelt bonus, in addition to their board. Thus far we have not been compelled to feed the foxes, as the island is well stocked with game, and fish drift into shore with the cross currents. When a large whale goes ashore it provides food for the foxes for at least six months."

At present market quotations a pair of young silver grey foxes, alive are worth $1,500, Hafferty said. Native Indians capture the fox pups and raise them from spring until fall when they are old enough to place on the farm. The animals mate during February and the young are born in May.

There is only one other fox farm in Alaska, on Middleton Island near Valdez. It is the larger of the two, but Hafferty hopes within a few years to raise as many bearers of Midway's furs as the Middleton Island farm.

the organic matter which they contain. The organic matter, which is simply plant residue matter, is sometimes regarded as a soil's most valuable constituent; it forms a storehouse for much of the fertilizing material in the soil. Soils having plenty of organic matter are generally easier to till; they are less susceptible to drought and they help to maintain the soil's fertility with good drainage. Some soil practices, however, may hasten the destruction of organic matter.

Power Company Must Be Ready Day and Night.

Serve Community Like Fire Department, Awaits Public Call

Sometimes people think that firemen who sit in the sun outside the firehouse, their chairs tilted against the wall at a comfortable angle, have a pretty easy time of it. And the waiters in the restaurant during the between-meal periods, and taxi drivers lined up waiting for fares, smoking and talking—they all look as though they led a life of leisure, when, as a matter of fact, they're merely waiting to be ready for instant and very strenuous service. It's not exactly possible to arrange fires to suit any schedule the fire department might draw up; you can't make people eat, as a general rule, except at meal time, nor ride around in taxis except when the occasion arises, but when the time does come, the firemen, the waiters and the taxi drivers must be on the spot and ready for real work.

The case of the electric light and power company is similar. In the early morning hours of a winter day, comes a heavy call for current for lighting, while people are preparing for the day's work. Then it slumps until late afternoon and from the hour of dusk on until 10 o'clock the heaviest demand of the day is registered. From midnight until 5 in the morning only a fraction of the amount of power used during the day is required. There are immense variations in the use of electricity during the twenty-four hour period.

In the course of one day which a large eastern electric company chose as a typical example, the demand for electric service increased 93 per cent in one period of an hour and twelve minutes.

Think what it would cost a housekeeper if, instead of being able to plan regularly for an ordinary meal for five people, she should be obliged to be ready at a moment's notice to serve for ten or twelve persons. Think of the supply of food she would be obliged to keep in her refrigerator and pantry always in readiness for an emergency. And the servants needed on such special occasions would be idle the remainder of the time. This is the sort of problem which confronts the electric central station constantly. The difficulties of welding thousands of dollars worth of physical equipment and an army of employees into a flexible unit ready to give well-nigh perfect service at a moment's notice tax both human resources and mechanical efficiency.

POWER DITCHING HELPS IN DRAINAGE PROBLEMS

That through the use of ditching machines farmers may make rapid strides towards the complete draining of land is shown by the work done in Washington county experiment farm near Marietta. Here a ditching machine was equal to the work of eleven men in trenching for tile.

Hand trenching for tile on this experiment farm cost from 170 to 180 percent more than for machine trenching; the machine work is also regarded as more accurate.

With machine digging, an operator may follow the machine within a few feet laying tile; a tractor and road scraper is used to refill the trenches.

In this manner a large amount of tile may be installed in one season with minimum loss to growing field crops where the tiling is being done.

This Nurse Tells Mothers How to Save Children from Skin Irritations and Soreness

West Carthage, N. Habitually used after child's bath, it heals and prevents soreness and rashes." Mabel E. Miller, R. N., W. Carthage, N. Y.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. For twenty years it has been used and endorsed by physicians and mothers, and nurses call it "A Healing Wonder."

LORAIN COUNTY PYTHIANS AND SISTERS HAVE LARGE MEETING, HEAR MUSIC AND ABLE ADDRESS

LORAIN—Before a large audience that nearly filled the big High school auditorium one of the largest gatherings of Knights of Pythias members, Pythian Sisters and their friends and relatives ever held in this city heard a delightful musical program, consisting of various renditions by several organizations and an inspiring, eloquent and able address by the Rev. Milton M. Brown, pastor of the Twentieth Street Methodist Episcopal church and secretary of the Lorain County Ministerial association, upon "Some Reflex Influences of Pythianism upon Life." Nearly half the Pythian membership of 1,500 in the county was represented at the meeting.

The meeting was held under the auspices of Holman lodge, No. 639 and Woodland lodge, No. 226, for the entire membership of the Knights of Pythias organizations throughout the county. There were a large number of members from Elyria, Amherst and other places present, accompanied by the numbers of the auxiliaries and their families.

The musical features of the program included the Holman lodge Mandolin club and singing by the Woodland lodge quartet, accompanied by the High school full orchestra. While patriotic songs were sung by the vast assemblage. Two enjoyable readings were given by Miss Myrtle Reeder.

The meeting was presided over by County Deputy Linton Rodgers, who presented the Rev. Mr. Brown. The Rev. Mr. Brown said: Members of the Woodland and Holman Lodges, Lorain County Pythians, there are times in the lives of each of us when we feel that high honor has come to us. I feel that it is a high honor to speak to this company tonight. From week to week and upon these special occasions I am getting new visions of the benefits of Pythianism. Some people have asked me if Pythianism is a benefit or a curse. I answer yes sir, a very great benefit indeed. It confers great benefits in the way of ideals and charts for life and and rules for conduct touching the entire life of mankind. That is so far beyond money benefits that it is folly to compare them. Anybody who knows anything about Pythianism at all will recognize its friendship benefits. I am thinking of it in that sense. A false friend is like a shadow, it is with you when the sunlight and leaves you when you pass from sunlight to darkness. While a genuine friend is like phosphorus, seen best on the darkest night. That is to say some folks may appear to be with you and a friend of yours in times of great success but when trouble and hardship come they leave you. Pythianism is friendship Biblical. That is to say in Pythianism one man loves another man for what he is and not for what he can get out of him. That friendship is not divine where one man makes a mere tool out of another by which to attain something. The order of the Knights of Pythias is capitalized with a type of friendship that has no reference to what is outside of the man but the inside of the man.

Made in God's Image

A brother made in God's image and who is traveling the same road he is traveling. Pythianism is friendship humanly helpful. You might live in the loveliest spot on earth, surrounded with all the beautiful and beautiful voices that nature can provide. You may possess the greatest pets that any kind of nature can produce and he in poverty and need until he finds a human friend. And when that mysterious visitor called death comes to your home you may say it with flowers and fill that home so that there will be only room for one person to get in.

We may send letters of congratulation until tables piled up with them. They all lose their position of influence when a friend steps in and says, my brother, I sympathize with you. My heart beats with yours in this hour. Then that gets its greatest satisfaction because of the human touch.

Brotherly Love

If ever a day when we need this comment of brotherly love and friendship it is now. When we have strife between capital and labor and divisions in other sections of our society, we need this binding force. There are many forces for friendship. There are financial friends. In this, money is the binding factor. They will be bitter enemies when that passes away. There are social friends. When some dynamite breaks up that social strata they too, become bitter enemies. But when they are human friends bound by that tie of human bonds then he is my brother and friend, no matter what comes to me or what reverses may assail me, he is my friend because of what I am and not because of what I have.

To say that we are all delighted to have you as our guests today is putting our welcome in a mild way. We feel honored with your presence. I trust you may be benefitted in the spirit of fellowship and worship that always prevails in this congregation. I feel myself peculiarly anxious at this hour to bring some gratifying and helpful message. Whenever you think of the word "Pythianism" you think also of that other word "Friendship." In the 15th chapter of St. John we have an expression showing the farthest outreach of friendship. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. We have many shining examples of this both inside and outside of the Bible.

One of these examples of friendship, the story of Damon and Pythias, have come down to us through the centuries a reflected light from that divine example. This divine ideal of friendship is loving a man for what he is, not for what he can do for you. That friendship is not a mere tool by means of which we can attain something. Justice H. Rathbone capitalized order with that type of divine friendship which binds men's hearts regardless of social standing or financial ability or political preference. The divine ideal is that men are real friends when they love each other for what they are, and are willing to die for each other.

And isn't it a positive circumstance when you put Pythianism alongside of these Biblical examples and see that it is an outgrowth of the great divine ideal? That friendship is not earthly, because disease will not waste it. Fire will not consume it. Force will not crush it. Fraud will not steal it. Time will not enfeeble it. Death cannot destroy it. The great cannot hold it. Now it is my ultimate purpose today to continue and end my message upon this central teaching and doctrine of friendship. I love as my specific object to study with you some of the reflex influences of these Pythian ideals upon life.

Pythianism in Man's Life.

In the first place Pythianism affects the whole life of the whole man. I want to correct that mistaken view that Pythianism benefits only Pythians. You might as well say that religion affects only the Christians. What a world we would have if the benefits of religion were confined only to those confessing it. We say some people's religion is a sham. We mean that it is not a real part of their inner life. It is nothing if a man lays off Monday morning and plays the devil during the week and puts it back on again when Sunday comes.

Religion is something burned into the crook or jaw made from clay and is therefore inseparable from the vessel. So Pythianism makes for a better manhood, a better home, a better life, for all mankind. It does not have obligations for the elect and do as you please for others. That would be a partisan thing. That would not harmonize with the divine ideal of friendship. So Pythianism reaches into the very center of life and governs our motives and wills and guides our conduct toward right channels to all mankind. With the open Bible upon the altar and with its open

GOLD TO BE PAID TO ALLIES AS INDEMNITY

Herewith is a most unusual photograph and one of momentous interest, showing part of the gold to be paid by Germany to the allied nations as indemnity. The photograph was made in the strong room of the German National Bank in Berlin, and shows custodians checking over the gold bullion.

teachings in the world none of us can think of a Knight of Pythias living his ideals only in the lodge hall and in the lodge meeting. If a man is a real Knight of Pythias his teachings and truths will go wherever he goes and be operative in all he does.

Over 100,000 Pythians in Ohio. This state of Ohio has over 100,000 Knights of Pythias. If these 100,000 men have these high ideals inculcated in their inner being operating in all their acts and doing what an uplift to our society for the benefit of our civilization, we hear it voiced every now and then that in this day every body is trying to get the other fellow. That seems to me like a synonymous term with Justice H. Rathbone's "Inhumanity to Man." To counteract such a spirit and to stamp out such unbrotherly acts the order of the Knights of Pythias was organized. Let us exalt that objective, my brothers, and let not such a spirit as that have a place in a Pythian heart.

Loyal American Order

Now another reflex influence of Pythianism is the propagation of patriotism. My impression of this order is that it is 100 per cent American. I think nobody can challenge that. It is my humblest prophecy that in the next ten years we shall need such teaching and preaching of good old-fashioned patriotism, and let me drop this word here that we should urge our young men of 18 and over to join the Knights of Pythias. I am enthusiastic in the church for the young in the development of Christian character. So I am in this order about these young men coming into such a school of citizenship. I was invited recently to a literary meeting of 8th graders in one of our public school buildings. It was told that over three-fourths of those pupils were foreign-born. The first thing in that meeting was the presentation of Old Glory and the salute to the flag and pledge of allegiance to the country. And as I later listened to the perfectly wonderful presentation of the qualities of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, I said to myself, what great stuff have we here, what ability for leadership in the immediate future. I went away saying God bless the little red school house on the corner and the brick buildings in the smaller towns and the ward buildings in our cities, for here is where patriotism is manufactured and a veritable dynamo to light the torches of liberty in the decades to be. For that kind of education this organization stands. When a similar service like this one that I have just recited takes place every week among 100,000 men of a commonwealth of a nation with the attendant lessons that it brings that means the killing of Bolshevism and anarchy. This as well as the teachings of the order develops bravery. This not only means the development of obedience to law or the enforcement of law but the bionic of every good law to be. In the Knights of Pythias every man is a citizen in a school of citizenship whose ideal is that the flag of liberty and freedom and democracy from one end of the nation to the other.

Tribute to Public Schools.

I say again it is our public schools and not our powder mills that constitutes our safety in the future. It is not the great dreadnaughts of the sea but great dreadnaughts of Pythianism that stands between the institution of American freedom and liberty and the threatening forces of autocracy and anarchy and Bolshevism and all other isms.

The third reflex influence of the friendship in Pythianism is the fact that it gives forth or teaches a correct philosophy of life. There is a certain well-defined, general, common sense and truly human standard of life. In other words there is a great channel of life and those who by false teachings or false influences or false guides go out of that channel will sooner or later strike the rocks and lodge upon the sands. Human life has one great highway well graded and well improved. But he who would seek to get through life by deporting into other ways will soon come to ravines and gullies and grades in a rough and rugged way.

In the genuine interpretation and general doctrine of human life there are great arrows pointing the way to go successfully thru human society, but he who would depart from the way these arrows point, will sooner or later think that he is living in a very cruel world. There is a great unseen gravity line to go by in the building of character as in the building of any material structure.

Building Life's Character

If the building of life and character we have a false plumb line filled with pessimism and frowning upon a human society that did not support them. What I am saying is that there is a true view of life, a true philosophy of life, a correct chart of life and he who follows that will be filled with optimism and hope and success and happiness. Knowing these fundamental laws of common life and dealings with success and die saying this is the best world and best age God ever made.

The teachings of the Knights of Pythias give to men a correct philosophy of life. Take three of its teachings. First, be generous. That is true philosophy of a life everywhere. I had an old brother in one of my congregations worth something over $150,000. He built a new front to the church. After much solicitation he gave 50 cents. The anathema hurled at him by the community was not pleasant. Now the philosophy of life is give according to your means and the world will applaud you. Another teaching is "be brave."

World Despises a Coward

The world despises a coward. It likewise applauds the brave. What makes a man brave? It is not truth—why does a robber seek refuge in hiding? Why does the offender of the law run from the officer? Why is it that vice and crime run riot in the night and are quiet in the sunshine? It is a fact that truth makes bravery and error makes cowardice. Another teaching is to scatter sunshine and drive the clouds away. Sunshine and light are welcome and attractive messengers in every walk of life. The great philosophy of life here is if you would have friends be friendly. If you would see bright faces in front of you let there be radiant beams go from your own face and it will reflect back from their faces into yours. The old lady who worked in a back elevator told a truth that is constantly used will protect your complexion against the hot summer sun and dry it and make the skin clear, soft and pretty white—a mark of refinement admired by everyone.

The Summer Girl

true of thousands of others. One of her passengers said to her, you do not get much fresh air and sunshine in here do you? Only the fresh breath and sunshine that folks like you bring in, was her reply. Here is a poem that contains some good philosophy of life. It is supposed to be Jesus talking to men at the end of the king's highway.

I made life sweet, My Lord will say
When we meet at the end of the King's highway.
I smoothed the path where the thorns annoyed.
I gave a mother back her boy.
I eased the sister's troubled mind.
I helped the burdened to be resigned.
I showed the sky to the souls born blind.
And what did you do, my Lord will say,
As you trudged along the King's highway.
Encouragement in life? He's a brother of mine;
And bearing about all the trouble he can.
Did you give him a smile? He was downcast and blue;
And the smile might have helped him to battle it through.
Do you know what it means to be losing the fight,
When a word of good cheer might set everything right?

That, my dear friends, is the philosophy of putting my message to you upon this occasion. Not so much the idealizing of friendship. Not so much the philosophy of friendship—but the mission of friendship. The use of friendship. The wealth of friendship. "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his own life for his friends. Human society is built upon the operation of friendship. As human society goes upward and more need of friendship, your talent may be developed in solitude as you mingle with friends. One of our Latin proverbs tells us that when Schiller met Goethe every latent talent was awakened. The poet's leaps and bounds. The biographers tell us that each new epoch in a hero's life was ushered in by a friend. It is so in your life and mine, but we do not detect it.

Friendship Cheers Us

Friendship cheers us like the silent influence of a sunbeam. It inspires us like the unseen force of a brave leader. It binds us like a heavenly vision. The normal man is fashionable in this atmosphere of friendship. God has made him gregarious. He wants friendship. The very cattle go in herds. The fishes in schools. The bees in swarms, the birds in flocks. So God created man to come together in families and cities and organizations and churches, there is some to the statue, a manhood and womanhood in that atmosphere of brotherhood and fashioning friendship. That is my message to you today. I trust that some part of the worship or some word of the message may be beneficial to each and all of us and that our lives may be made better, by our service together this morning.

G. A. R. Honor Guests; Kiwanians To Go To Legion's Circus

LORAIN—The Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting yesterday afternoon entertained as their guests of honor five veterans of the Civil War.

The Civil War veterans who were present were Abraham Wells, T. O. Cooke, C. E. Doane, Sr., Andrew Silfrid, A. Baldwin. After the dinner each of the veterans spoke briefly of their reminiscences of the war.

Members of the American Legion were present and explained to the club the condition of affairs at the Legion circus. It appears that the citizens of Lorain have not given the boys sufficient encouragement or support and it has been losing money ever since it opened.

Baldwin Issues Full Program for Memorial Day Exercises

MAIN—The following official program for Memorial Day, Monday, May 30, has been issued by Commanding General August Baldwin of the 1st U. S. Army, No. 2, who will be marshal of the day.

The exercises will be featured by a large parade through the principal streets, followed by music speaking in Washington park on Erie avenue. The day's program will open with the military band, and their auxiliaries decorating the graves of all the soldiers in the cemeteries.

That G. A. R. and its allied orders, Spanish War Veterans and their auxiliary, World War Veterans and their auxiliary, will meet at the veterans' hall Monday, May 30th, at 10 a. m. From there they will go to the cemetery and decorate the graves.

The chairman of the parade committee will organize the parade at 9 a. m., as follows:

First division, composed of Sons of Veterans as color bearers, police, band, G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, and their auxiliaries, will form on the corner of Twenty-second street and Broadway.

The parade will move north on Broadway to the river, where flowers will be strewn upon the waters in commemoration of the naval heroes.

They will then proceed to Washington park on Erie avenue, and listen to the music and orators of the day.

The regimental flag of the 8th Ohio Civil War Veterans will be in the parade, and Comrade George Groot of Cleveland, a member of the 8th Ohio Civil War Veterans, will be one of the speakers.

Inasmuch as this is strictly American day, as well as Fourth of July, there will be but one flag permitted in the parade—"Old Glory."

welcome to the incoming classes was given by the vice president, Miss Beulah Chilton. Responses were made by Misses Rachel Peak and Gladys Hubbard.

The report of the last session was read by the secretary, after which the officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Grace Peak; vice president, Leola Fitch; secretary, Hazel Peak; treasurer, Mildred Wagner; historian, Louise Fitch. The alumni thought it best to have a fixed time for its meeting, so it was voted to have it the Saturday evening following the close of school.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in music and conversation.

During the early part of the afternoon the guests were handed slips of paper on which were to be written words of advice for the bride to be.

Some of the advices were comical and some was of a more serious strain. After these had been exchanged and read little Miss Dorothy Stagg and Pearl Willford brought a clothes basket, loaded with gifts and presented it to Miss Fitch.

Pictures were taken of the two girls with the basket of gifts also of all those who attended the shower. About 5 o'clock refreshments were served after which the guests soon took their departure for home.

Does It Pay to Worry About Appendicitis?

Can appendicitis be guarded against? Yes, by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-Ika, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel removing ALL foul, decaying matter which might start infection. EXCELLENT for gas on stomach or chronic constipation. It removes matter which you never thought was in your system and which nothing else can dislodge. One man reports it is unbelievable how awful impurities Adler-Ika brought out.—J. AN RENT REBEL FIGHTS $800 RAISE AS MATTER OF DUTY

Woman and Mother Risks Whole Business Career to Champion Cause of Those Fighting High Rents.

Written by MARGERY HEN for International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 27.—When my son went to war I told him he must fight not Germans, nor hate, but fight and kill greed!

When my son returned from war I was confronted with an $800 rent raise in rent.

This is one phase of the fight of Mrs. Tinsley, of Aeolian Hall, against her landlords. An increase in rent has caused her protest and refusal to pay, which refusal, in turn, has caused the owners of the property to begin dispossession proceedings.

Add to the rhythms that have been trod through Aeolian Hall, the striking chair beat of Mrs. Tinsley, the "rent rebel" who, she says,

In 1916 Mrs. Tinsley paid $1,080 a year rental for her suite. May 1, 1919 the rent was raised to $1,200 and in November of that year Mrs. Tinsley was notified that on the coming first of May the yearly price of her rooms would be $2,000. She paid, for one year under continual protest but on May 2 of this year she reduced her own rent.

MARRIAGE CLERK HAS SOME RICH EXPERIENCES

ELYRIA—Florence Witbeck, license clerk at the probate office, runs across all kinds of experiences, some of which are amusing, and others more serious.

A few days ago a couple came for a license, and when the young man was asked how old he was he said 21. Someone in the office knew he was but 19, and told Miss Witbeck. Result, no license until the young man's father gives his consent. A couple came out from Cleveland recently, and when it was discovered that the bride was from Cuyahoga county, a license was refused. The girl cried, but that didn't help any and they went away disconsolate.

A look of astonishment spreads over the face of most of the applicants when she asks them "are either of you insane, epileptic or habitual drunkards." This question has to be asked every applicant. The other day one young man said he might be crazy seeing that he was getting married, but denied he was an epileptic or a drunkard.

Many foreigners that apply cannot talk English and have to bring along an interpreter, and still others cannot write their own name to the application.

There are others who apply, however, that she asserts it is real pleasure to wait on, and all around the position is an interesting one that she enjoys.

FIND BODY OF BABE STOLEN BY EAGLE

(International News Service.)

LONDON, May 27.—A partial solution of a 1914 mystery has been yielded by the discovery of the charred skeleton of a child's body on the highest mountain in Scotland known as the Mither Tap.

A child of two disappeared while at play and a search within the radius of thirty miles proved futile. The belief being that the child had been carried away by gypsies or else by an eagle.

Now a body, believed to be that of the missing child, has been found by a man salvaging timber on the mountain, which was swept by fire last year.

It is believed that the baby was carried away by an eagle, because it was too young to have wandered two miles up a steep hillside deeply covered with undergrowth.

Directions for washing children: don't soak over night. Just add a little Blue Devil to the water.

Voice of the People

Elyria, May 24.

Editor Chronicle-Telegram.

Dear Sir:

We know that you were prompted by a desire to defend the courts against impostors in your Saturday's article against mediums. But many people who read the editorial can in all honesty deny your assumption that "mediumship is a fraud. No one can draw any line of distinction between the mediumship of our best musicians, artists, instructors, inventors and scientists on one hand and the mediumship of our refined, elderly speakers and message bearers on the other hand, who are authorized by the National Spiritual association. These people can comfort and encourage for higher purposes every benighted soul they meet.

Why not find out for yourself what their influence is instead of condemning because of personal traits.

The most beloved editor Elyria ever had was a Spiritualist, who would by all means give our authorized mediums a wide recommendation. One of our leading school teachers is also a Spiritualist. There are about seven million of them in the U. S. and nearly thirty million on this little globe which the other churches persist in making so gloomy.

Mr. Strack of Sandusky said at our meeting on May 5th that mediums are most striking in their sincerity because whenever they meet they are frequently asking spirit messages of each other. It gives them so much proof and assurance. In your Sunday issue, May 8, appeared a group picture of the Moose lodge. And so friendly were the brothers at that sitting that three spirit faces were able to appear among those human forms. Why can not spirit faces come into any photograph? Because the required congenial vibrations are lacking. Lake Erie does not boil for produce a coating of ice today because of the self same reason. Mediums do not need a machine to assist their powers. Every person can and ought to develop some form of mediumship.

Joan of Arc is no longer condemned as you are condemning all mediums. But rather, she is canonized as a saint. Through Hickson at Columbus, many were healed. But Christ did not belong to the scribes and Pharisees and so he was condemned.

CONDITIONS IN DELAWARE ARE REPORTED IMPROVED

DELAWARE, O., May 27.—General conditions in Delaware as a result of two years of prohibition are much better than under the free reign of John Barleycorn. This is the consensus of opinion of city officials. Police records show that the arrests during the two years ending today have been cut in half compared with the number recorded during the two years previous to May 24, 1919. The charges for intoxication have been cut from 267 to 52 the comparison shows.

FEAR ILLICIT LIQUOR STOCKS WILL INCREASE

BY W. H. ATKINS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Liquor lawlessness upon a wider scale, especially among bootleggers, has followed the dropping of 700 "dry" law enforcement agents, according to reports to the prohibition unit of the treasury.

Reports from those areas of the country which still are listed as very "wet" by treasury officials show that illicit vendors of whiskey are obtaining larger fresh supplies from manufacturers of illicit whiskey.

From the rural districts, particularly the mountainous sections, officials were advised that new operations have been begun by makers of "moonshine" whiskey.

In the face of these reports the government's "dry" law force is very powerless, as there only remains what amounts to merely an office enforcement organization.

Prohibition Commissioner Kramer still hoped for action by the senate appropriating the needed $200,000 already approved by the house, early enough to rebuild the organization to its former strength.

The fear of prohibition officials is that with the government's vigilance relaxed, illicit makers and sellers of whiskey will be able to obtain surplus stocks to carry them along for many months, even after the new appropriations for enforcement work become available July 1.

Among the reports reaching headquarters here were some from unofficial vigilance committees, stating that corn whiskey of a good grade is finding its way into the larger cities from country districts and is being eagerly bought up by bootleggers.

The inevitable increase in smuggled whiskey, predicted by treasury officials is also in evidence. Imported whiskey in larger quantities is finding its way across the Canadian border and is being delivered as far south as the Ohio river. Smuggled whiskey is also coming across the Mexican border and into Florida and Georgia from Cuba, in ever increasing amounts. Liquor from this source is now reaching consumers as far north as Washington and Baltimore. Some few shipments have even gone as far as New York from the southern points through which they were brought.

EVANGELISTS SPEAK HERE AT TWO SERVICES SUNDAY

ELYRIA.—Not often do two men as widely known over the United States and Canada get together on one day.

The First Baptist church heard that Mr. Rader was to speak in Cleveland on Sunday night and immediately got busy to secure him for Elyria.

The result is a telegram has come and the First Baptist is authorized to announce Mr. Rader for Sunday at 10 a. m. and for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The 10 a. m. service will be held in lieu of the regular Sunday school service. All of the adult classes will be dismissed. Everyone will want to hear Mr. Rader both morning and afternoon.

He is a vital part of the great Moody church in Chicago, of which his brother, Paul, is pastor; as well as a chemist of note.

As one of Chicago's leading business men he will appeal to Elyria's men.

Mr. Rader gives every spare moment to giving Bible lectures from the chemist's viewpoint. He is quite as striking a personality as his brother Paul and like Paul he knows how to grip the heart and drive home his message with a marvelous power.

Dr. Henry Ostrom will preach at eleven o'clock. Dr. Ostrom is connected with the Moody Bible Institute.

Because of prior engagements the First Baptist church failed to land Dr. Ostrom for a Bible Conference last January. They are therefore doubly glad to have him in Elyria on Sunday.

Dr. Ostrom is a Methodist of the old stock. He clings to the vital truth of the word in a wonderful way and preaches with spiritual power.

Dr. Ostrom held a union Evangelistic series in Elyria some years ago and many of the friends he made at that time will be glad to hear him again at eleven Sunday morning.

At night the pastor R. E. Neighbor will preach on "The Marriage of the Lamb."

BRIAND SCORES VICTORY IN HIS DARING STAND

BY NEWTON PARKE

PARIS, May 27.—With his country solidly behind him, Premier Briand, whose policies received an overwhelming vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies last night, was in position, today to arrange for an immediate meeting of the inter allied supreme council to consider Upper Silesia. Already, diplomatic exchanges between Paris, London, Brussels and Rome are under way regarding the preliminaries of the Upper Silesia discussions.

NERVOUS, OVERWORKED, RUNDOWN PEOPLE NEED EVANS TRIPLE PHOSPHATE

Never mind how shaky or timid and retreating your abused nerves have made you, you can brace up, step lively regain your old time ambition and confidence in just a few days by a short treatment of Evans' Triple Phosphates.

No matter what excesses have wrecked your nerves, Evans' Triple Phosphates are guaranteed to stop your trembling, to restore your confidence to drive away forgetfulness and make your mind keen and alert, to change your sluggish disposition for a vigorous active one in two weeks or money back.

If you have worked too hard, lived too rapidly or have become weak, nervous and lost ambition because of late hours and too strenuous living during the winter months, arouse yourself right now and get a package of Evans' Triple Phosphates at once. The beauty and glory of a healthy vigorous body is something all men and women desire. It's within your reach. Why not have it? Harry A. Grandall and all good druggists can supply you.—Adv.

By a masterly stroke of statesmanship, Premier Briand had been able to swing the chamber around to his new attitude of more moderation towards Germany and the veto stood.

For the government—419.

Against the government—171.

If the vote had been adverse, it would have been necessary for the cabinet to resign. The result, however, showed that the government is in a powerful position.

With the exception of the Echo de Paris, the Parisian press, as a whole, expressed satisfaction over the outcome of the five days debate in the chamber.

Premier Briand is the first French premier since the war to dare propose a policy of conciliation toward Germany.

The chief elements of the new attitude of the government were:

1. The Anglo-French alliance will be maintained.

2. France will undertake no independent military operations against Germany, nor occupy the Ruhr at this time.

EVERY ONE DELIGHTED WITH HAGENBACK SHOW

ELYRIA.—Many thousands of people wound their way to the circus grounds. Thursday afternoon and those who passed beyond the portals of the canvas amphitheater, later returned, satisfied that word hardly fills the bill. They came away not only satisfied, but delighted and thrilled at the exhibition they had witnessed. Even the most hardened and consistent circus goers admitted that the performance of the wild animals in the center cage, not wagon, was the greatest marvel of its kind they had ever witnessed. And the same might be said of the entire show. There was not a flat feature or a dragging moment under that canvas top.

It was a good show in all that the word implies and it would be only justice to the attendants to say that they were far and a long way ahead of the usual crowd of circus attendees. They were polite and patient with the patrons and their appearance was very much in their favor.

Taken all in all the Hagenback-Weil show made a fine impression and a return engagement would be certain of even more liberal patronage than Thursday.

Carried Alleged Liquor in Pocket, He Sold to Officers

LORAIN.—Scott H. Main, 1065 Broadway, one of those arrested in the raid on bootleggers last April, appeared before Judge Hardin in municipal court yesterday afternoon for trial. Attorney W. L. Hughes represented Main and Prosecutor A. C. Calhoun, the state.

The first witness called was W. J. Jones, inspector for the Ohio Prohibition Commission. Jones testified that he, with C. O. Burke, another inspector, called at Main's place and were sold two drinks apiece. The "liquor" was described as being a mixture of grain alcohol, water and caramel coloring, and in Mr. Jones' opinion, about 45 percent proof, selling for 50 cents a drink. Jones said that Main, himself, poured out the drink from a flask that he had taken from his hip pocket.

Burke was the second witness called. His testimony was in substance the same as that of Jones. Judge Hardin announced that he would hand down his decision Friday morning.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Willie Jackson and Jimmie Hanlon, will stage the feature event of an all star boxing show tonight at the Pioneer Sporting Club.

Brotherhood of Understanding Sought Between Nations Whose Destinies Lie in the Pacific

Premier Hughes, of Australia, Appeals to America to Strengthen Bonds Between U. S. and "the Outpost of White Race in the Pacific."

(By International News Service.)

MELBOURNE, Australia. — Encouragement of a closer union between the British Empire and the United States, because "not only to us but to the whole world continued friendship of the two great Anglo-Saxon races means peace and progress," is urged in a letter sent by William M. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia, to W. D. Boyce, Chicago and Indianapolis publisher, upon Mr. Boyce's arrival here.

The American publisher came to Australia at the head of a "South by Southwest" mission gathering material for word and photographic pictures of the Island Continent for the readers of his publications. Immediately upon Mr. Boyce's arrival the Prime Minister sent him a letter welcoming him to Australia and sending through him to the American people a message from the people of Australia. This message follows:

"In extending to you a hearty welcome to Australia I desire to express appreciation of your object in visiting the country. We can not ignore the fact that the bond of blood and language has been strong enough to hold the United States to the United Kingdom, despite the deliberate machinations of mutual enemies. Nor can we forget that we fought and bled together in the greatest war of all time. In our outpost of the British Empire Australia the significance of this mutual regard.

"Not only to us, but to the whole world, the continued friendship of the two great Anglo-Saxon races means peace and progress. All that makes for a closer union should be encouraged, and anything which threatens it should be condemned. We in Australia look to the sister democracy of America for co-operation in problems of mutual concern.

"Our destiny, like the destiny of your Western States, lies in the Pacific. On the shores of this vast ocean are gathered the bulk of the peoples of the earth. They differ in language, ideals and religion. The rapid modernization of many of these peoples may increase rather than diminish the problems which inevitably arise where peoples of different races congregate.

"So we feel that we—the white outpost in the Pacific—may look to the United States with a confidence born of mutual ideals. In our hands lies the destiny of the Pacific, and in our common task lies our strongest bond of friendship."

CHRONICLE-TELEGRAM

EARLY BATTLES OF CARPENTIER

By JAMES J. CORBETT.
Written Expressly for the I. N. S.
(Copyright 1921 by The International News Service.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 27.—Shortly after he won the French welterweight championship, Georges Carpentier ran into his second American opponent.

He was matched with Dixie Kid, the colored boxer. He had been taking a vacation at Trouville and claims he was not in condition for the fight, which was stopped in the fifth round, to save Georges from a terrific beating.

It was not until late in 1911 and in 1912, however, that the French champion began to assimilate a number of hard earned lessons in the American style of boxing.

In December 1911, Harry Lewis, always a great boxer and in his day one of the sturdiest middleweights, met Carpentier, who now had entered middleweight ranks, though not before he had knocked out Jim Sullivan. But his middleweight champion, in two rounds, at Monte Carlo.

Carpentier, after twenty rounds, was awarded the decision over Lewis.

Georges later proved to Willie Lewis, Papke and Klaus, that he had a fighting heart.

He was matched with Dixie Kid, the colored boxer. He had been taking a vacation at Trouville and claims he was not in condition for the fight, which was stopped in the fifth round, to save Georges from a terrific beating.

TAGGING THE BASES

(International News Service.)
George Kelly's timely hitting, gave the Giants a victory over Boston in the first game of a double header. Dana Pillinger, proved a giant killer in the afternoon.

The Indians have been beaten twice this year on their own home grounds, both times by Babe Marquard of the Reds, who spoiled their home coming Thursday.

The Tigers knocked Red Faber for a shower bath, in the first game at Chicago, but Dick Kerr evaded the count for the White Sox in the second game.

Stan Coveleskie breezed along, mowing down the Indians while the home run was scored by Bill Denovan's Phillies.

RICKENBACKER LEAVES CHEYENNE FOR CAPITAL

CHEYENNE, WYO., May 27.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, premier American flyer, took off here shortly after six o'clock this morning on his flight from California to Washington, D. C. in an air mail plane, piloted by C. V. Pickup.

Rickenbacker said he would take charge of the ship, when it reached Omaha and drive through to Washington himself. He hopes to reach the national capital in time for the Pershing banquet Saturday night.

JOE CHIP OF DETROIT, WHILE IN CITY, SAYS HART COMING CHAMP

LORAIN—"Alex Hart is a corner, is the words expressed by Joe Chip, visiting in this city yesterday afternoon for a few hours on his return trip from Detroit where he met Johnny Wilson in a recent ring encounter.

I saw Hart in action at Alton when he met Willie Devore and the skill that he displayed in that fight showed championship calibre and I predict that some day he will be the real contender for lightweight honors," he continued.

Joe Chip was the guest of Mike Peer yesterday and motored through the city on a sight seeing expedition with Mike as his guide. Late yesterday afternoon he continued his homeward voyage to New Castle, Pa.

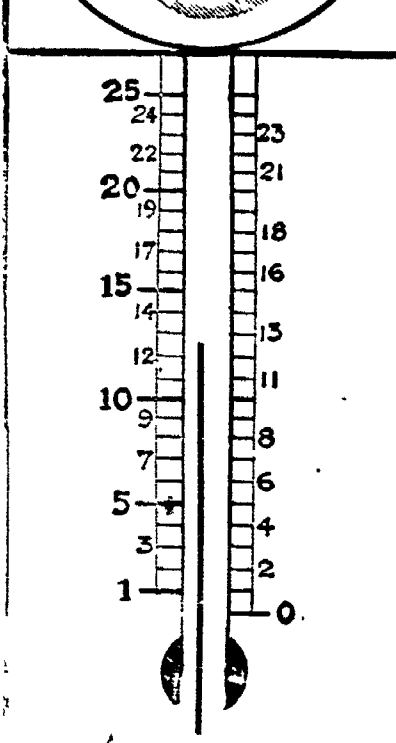

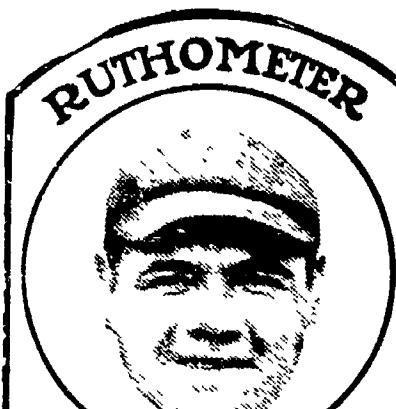

Chip lost on a newspaper decision to Johnny Wilson last Wednesday at Detroit and came out of the fray without a scar. He says "This one Johnny Wilson is the hardest hitter that I have ever met in my fight experience, but I believe that I can better him in a return match. Wilson was ten pounds overweight and there are not many fighters who would allow themselves to fight under such a handicap, especially against a man like Wilson."

THREE GAMES ON SATURDAY

ELYRIA—There will be three good games in the Lorain County baseball league Saturday.

All three games should be close affairs with perhaps the most determined struggle being by LaGrange at Wellington in an effort to maintain its hold in being tied with the Rats for leadership in the league.

DEMPSEY'S WIND GOOD BUT HE LOOKS PAUNCHY

BY SID MERCER
(Written for the I. N. S.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 27.—The champion gave his first exhibition in the open yesterday afternoon.

Altogether Dempsey boxed eight rounds and he must have been in the ring for nearly an hour, ending his part of the program with some calisthenics. He worked in heavy woolen trunks and looked a bit puffy around the paunch. His wind was good, however.

GRAHAM AND HUNTER TO FIGHT IT OUT

BY FRANK CARBUTHERS
Editor of Golf Illustrated
(Special Correspondent of I. N. S.)
HOYLAK, England, May 26.—A. J. Graham of the Royal Liverpool club and Willie Hunter of Walmer and Kingsdown, will fight it out for the British amateur golf championship.

Graham won his semi-final match here today from H. S. B. Tubbs of Sunningdale, one up. Hunter defeated Bernard Darwin of Weekling, 3 up and 2 to play.

AMERICAN'S SHOWING KEENLY DISAPPOINTING

By FRANK CARBUTHERS,
Special Correspondent of the I. N. S.
HOYLAK, England, May 27.—Allen Graham, of Hoylake and Willie Hunter, of Walmar, met here today in the 36-hole final round for the British amateur golf championship.

At the turn of the first 18 holes, Hunter was six up on Graham. Hunter went out in 35. Graham took 41 strokes. The course was deluged by a rainstorm, which flooded the sixth and eleventh greens.

Hunter is a postoffice clerk, the son of Harry Hunter, professional at Deal.

Devotees of golf realized that what had promised to be the greatest amateur golf competition in British history, has proved more or less of a fizzle.

The American competitors are deeply disappointed over their poor showing and especially Fred Wright's failure to keep his grip in his match with Darwin in which he went to the turn three up.

Wright developed a hook with all of his shots on the home stretch. He was unlucky to lose the 19th

Will Likely Match Hart and O'Connell

LORAIN—Word was received this morning from Mike Grealis, manager of Alex Hart that he is doing all possible to match the local lad with Charlie O'Connell, one of the real contenders for lightweight championship honors.

"I have sent offers for a twelve round bout with O'Connell to Jimmy Dunn, manager of this flash, and I expect to have a favorable reply in the next few days," Grealis declared.

"Hart is capable of handing Dunn's protege a decisive lesson and will go into training in a few days to be all set to make good this statement," he continued.

Some agitation is now afoot to have this classic staged at the athletic field but it has not been decided upon definitely.

DOKEYS TO PRACTICE

LORAIN—Members of the Dokey baseball nine will meet in a practice session at Oakwood park Sunday morning. At 11 o'clock the team will set for a picture. All the players are requested to be present.

CO-EDS TO ENJOY PARTY

INVESTIGATIONS WHICH PROVE OF LITTLE WORTH

According to Washington advices, congress would enter upon an investigation of the strike of the garment workers and likewise a probe of the trouble in the Mingo mine region. Undoubtedly the general public would hail with much enthusiasm inquiries of this kind if the results were productive of some real tangible worth, but unfortunately the majority of such official probes have resulted in little that was worth much to any one and least of all those most concerned.

Many of those undertakings afford certain people opportunities otherwise denied them of giving full scope to their beliefs and opinions and in the main those outpourings are of no particular value except to the outpourer.

Time after time have there been congressional probes with the only thing in sight for the people was the immensity of the expenditure which they created.

FOREST PRESERVATION IS VITAL

Not only with regard to newspapers and other publications but as a vital relation to human life have the people of this country and the world come to look upon forests and the preservation of those forests.

For years utter carelessness has been manifested with regard to this most important department of the public life. Great forests have been permitted to go to decay or have been stripped of their growth, without any real effort or exertion being made to replace them.

This has gone on for years, until people were brought to a realization of the terrible devastation which was permitted without let or hindrance.

Late, but at the same time, effective, so far as the coming generation is concerned has been the effort to make up for this quite criminal negligence.

Efforts have been made through national and state agencies to bring about a reform, but it will be some time before its full beneficence will be realized.

Steps have been taken to check forest fires, one of the greatest and most destructive forces which have to do with forestry. A move has been made in the right direction. Educational campaigns have been conducted under state and national supervision and they are producing results.

It remains to keep up the good work and in time people will become so well versed in this movement that the advantages will be apparent in the largely healthful growths of the coming forests and the stimulated effort to more properly preserve those which are already in evidence.

The railroad labor board is said to have arrived at a wage scale which will become operative July 1. It is said the rate reduction will be uniform on all roads to each class of workers. The new rate will be based on that established in June of last year. It remains in the hands of the board to pronounce a scale which will be wise and just. If they do that they will have accomplished a great good. But it must not be lost sight of that they have some task before them.

Erie, Pennsylvania men have appealed from an indictment because women sat on the jury. Any one in Erie getting before a grand jury at all should have been lucky if they did get life sentence. In the matter of crime and criminals, the place occupies a pedestal alone and of its own creation.

Only a few more days and those surviving veterans will be performing a duty which others in their turn must do for them. The ranks of the civil war veterans are growing alarmingly thin, but their memory will never be permitted to grow less.

One striking feature of advanced civilization is a war debt. In the olden times, there were no such things. The victor appraised and collected his spoils on the spot. There were no long debates and reparations, indemnities and the like were unknown.

A Parisian killed himself because he would not pay $3000 taxes. It was a senseless martyrdom as the government is able to make two collections now, one the regular tax and the other the inheritance tax.

Premier Briand cleared the strained relations between Great Britain and France by his announcement of a Franco-Anglo friendship or alliance was of more moment than French occupation of the Ruhr district.

THE MOUNTAIN PEOPLE

A little band of teachers, educational workers and missionaries are making a gallant fight to enlighten the mountain people of the south. Their battle ground is remote from the outside world, and few echoes of what they are doing are heard in the busy cities of the East, but there is the real crusade and their work, in spite of many obstacles, is being pushed forward from year to year with increased success.

The ninth annual conference of the Mountain Teachers was held recently at Knoxville, Tenn. One of the speakers was President Frost of Berea, who has resigned after 28 years of service. In his address he called attention to the fact that the mountain region of the south, lying in the Virginias, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, is an area larger than the whole German empire.

The people who inhabit this large territory not only constitute the purest Anglo-Saxon stock in America, but they are the most primitive. Conditions have changed a little since their ancestors first settled in the mountains. They are almost as remote from modern civilization as if they lived on another continent that is a century or more behind the times. Most of them have descended from Revolutionary soldiers and in some countries there is not a single negro or a foreigner.

These people do not need much "uplifting," as the term is used by reformers. Except for a tendency to take the law into their own hands at times, they possess many admirable traits, and it is doubtless true that a woman is safer on a mountain road than she would be in the suburbs of one of our large cities. These people have the native nobility of character that comes from close contact with nature as revealed in the sublimity of mountains, waterfalls, and primeval forests. But they do need education sadly. They proved their patriotism during the world war, yet among the young men who went from the mountain country to serve the flag in France, many of them winning decorations, a large percentage were unable to read or write. The average mountain child now attends school about 50 days in the year.

Here is a field for philanthropy that promises rich rewards. The kind of people, sturdy Americans every one, who produced a Sergeant York and numerous other war heroes are entitled to share in the advantages of American civilization. The mountain school, properly taught and adequately maintained, will solve the problem.—Birmingham Age-Herald (Dem.)

WHICH WAY BACK TO NORMALCY?

The United States Chamber of Commerce, after extensive inquiry notes two ways in which large industries are trying to make their way back to normalcy in the face of an unsteady market. The first is by discharging workers, not actually necessary, and the second is by lowering wages. The three million idle workers in this country witness to the fact that the first method is more general.

It is chosen by large industries because to lay off men causes less friction with the labor unions than to lower wages. The unions seem to prefer that part of their members go without work that that the majority accept a lower wage scale. They are loth to give up the ground they have gained through the war, and they hope the unemployed will soon be recalled.

This might be good seasoning under some conditions, but it helps neither the worker nor industry in general. To have a large number out of work, while others are on the job at abnormally high wages puts the whole economic system out of balance. It reduces the standard of living for some, and raises it for others. It throws some industries like transportation, which pays an abnormally high wage, out of alignment with others. It puts some men where they can not buy many goods at the market price, and does little to reduce the costs of production in some of the most essential lines.

It would be far better for the whole industrial system, if they were willing to accept a reasonable retrenchment in wages, when these are clearly too high in relation to other conditions, rather than to have men out of employment altogether.

As long as certain essential commodities like coal remain high as they do wage reduction should not proceed abruptly. The main point is that all should show some willingness to share in the necessary retrenchment and all should share in the benefits of a rising market.—Minneapolis Journal (Ind Rep.)

THIS DRY WORLD

The United States is far from being the only dry area in the world. In the whole of Canada, but two spots remain, namely: Quebec and British Columbia and in these areas liquor sales are strictly regulated and restricted. In Europe, in the wine producing countries, are huge stocks of unsalable liquors—unsalable because the greater part of Europe is dry by force of poverty if not by force of law, and because of prohibition on the American continent and in Asia. Soviet Russia is dry officially, and reports agree that the drought is real. In Germany, Austria, Poland and most of the Balkans the overwhelming percentage of the people are too poor to buy wine. In France and Italy people of moderate means can afford the native wines, but the price of imported wine is prohibitive. The whole Mohammedan world, comprising some 300,000,000 people, is prohibition by religious law, and nearly all of China and all of India are dry through sheer poverty. "It would be fair to say," writes a correspondent of the Chicago News, "that all Asia is prohibition save for a handful of foreigners and rich persons in the towns." All this dry-

INTRODUCING OUR NEW SENATORS

Frank Bartlette Willis.
(Republican.)

Former Governor, Now U. S. Senator from Ohio, Succeeding Mr. Harding.

(By International News Service)

MR. READER:

Meet former Governor Frank Bartlette Willis, of Ohio, who early last January succeeded Mr. Harding as United States Senator.

He is a big man with a booming voice which he is not afraid to use, square jawed and big-fisted. His penetrating bass voice is already familiar to his colleagues.

Senator Willis was a member of the house from 1911 to 1915. He nominated Mr. Harding at the Chicago convention and his stentorian tones filled the convention chamber. His "boys and girls" speech on that occasion was characteristic of the man. No back seat for him.

ness is disastrous in its effect upon France and Italy, in which wine manufacturer was one of the most important industries, and wine exportation one of the chief sources of revenue. It necessitates an economic readjustment that is fundamental, an overturning of the habit and practice of centuries. When wine begs to be bought, as it does in Europe today, and is the only thing in abundant and cheap, it is apparent that the people will be forced to put their land to other use, if they are to survive. It is not idle to suggest that they might try raising foodstuffs, of which they are in such dire need at present.—Sioux City Journal (Rep.)

(International News Service.)
SEATTLE, Wash., May 27—A record of eight thousand arrests in nineteen years, without once having fired a shot, is the boast of Matt Starwich, sheriff of King county, Wash., whose friends in and out of the service are congratulating him this week on the completion of nearly one score years as overseer of 6,000 square miles of mountainous and semi-mountainous territory. Why Not Let the

"It's cheaper to rent than to buy," is a pet remark often heard. But did you ever talk to a "cheaper" renter than to buy sort of a man ten years later? Doesn't he, nine times out of ten, say that if he had used a little judgment or taken some good advice ten years ago that he would at least own a home of his own now?
